UNVEILING TRES TIMES

Dr . Dania Qazi

Head of Academics TRES

I'm thrilled to share some exciting news with you, we're launching our very first e-newsletter, TRES TIMES! This is a significant moment for us all, as it represents our commitment to strengthening our connections, celebrating our achievements, and sharing the wonderful stories that make our community truly extraordinary.

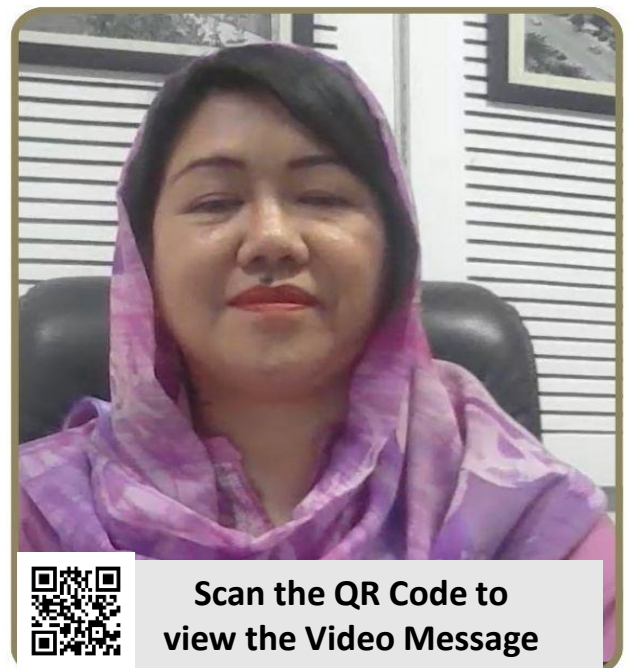

At The Renaissance Education System, we embrace the spirit of renewal and transformation. Every day, we work together to create an environment where knowledge, creativity, and collaboration can thrive. TRES TIMES will reflect this spirit, providing a glimpse into the amazing initiatives and projects our students and faculty are involved in. In each edition, we'll spotlight the inspiring journeys of our students and faculty. It's not just about academic success; it's about personal growth, resilience, and the many ways we support one another in our shared pursuit of knowledge. I hope these stories will motivate us all to continue embracing lifelong learning and curiosity—our core principles.

Chronicles of our Renaissance Experience

As we embark on this new adventure, I encourage you to engage with TRES TIMES. Your feedback, contributions, and insights will be vital in shaping this newsletter into something that truly reflects our community's voice.

Let's continue to uplift one another as we navigate the challenges and triumphs of our educational journey. Together, we are more than just a school; we are a vibrant family dedicated to nurturing the leaders of tomorrow.

Thank you for your unwavering commitment and enthusiasm. I can't wait to see the incredible stories that will unfold in TRES TIMES!

STEERING THE FUTURE

Progress, Plans & Possibilities

Mr. Khurram Shahzad Malik

In this interview, we had the privilege of speaking with Mr. Khurram Shahzad Malik, the Project Director of TRES, who brings over 27 years of global business experience and holds a Master's Degree in International Business and Business Communication from the Asian Institute of Technology in Thailand.

His career includes key roles at FedEx, Expeditors, and Next Capital. Since joining The City School Group in April 2023, he has been pivotal in shaping TRES's vision and strategic direction, reflecting his commitment to redefining quality education and nurturing future leaders.

An Exclusive Interview with the Project Director

Interviewer: Can you tell us about your history with The City School?

PD: Since joining The City School Group in April 2023, my experience has been fulfilling and exciting, thanks to the collaborative environment and commitment to educational excellence that align with our mission of fostering innovative learning experiences for students.

Interviewer: What is the vision behind the making of THE RENAISSANCE Education System?

PD: The vision behind TRES is to create leaders for the future, and to also provide students with progressive and futuristic education. What we're really aiming to do is to provide quality education, which is affordable. That's the aim we have behind this brand.

Interviewer: How does TRES differentiate itself from other educational institutions?

PD: TCS has a rich legacy of 46 years in education. Building on this foundation, TRES is committed to integrating the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) into its framework, focusing on affordability, globalization, and technological advancement.

Interviewer: Where do you envision TRES positioned in the future as part of your long-term goals?

PD: We aim to make TRES one of the leading network of schools across Pakistan. We see TRES as a major player in the mid-tier education sector in the country, providing standardized quality education, which is affordable.

Interviewer: Lastly while we've learned about your professional life, can you tell us who Khurram Shahzad Malik is as a person?

PD: Well, I'm the regular guy that you see and meet every day with pretty much simple interests. I like to travel and read, and I'm a family man. So that's about it.

TRES Launch Ceremony

On May 24, 2024, The City School group proudly celebrated the launch of its groundbreaking initiative, The Renaissance Education System (TRES). Graced by the esteemed presence of Group Chairperson Dr. Farzana, the evening was a vibrant testament to our commitment to redefining education for a brighter future.

FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL

The excitement is palpable as we open the doors to a new chapter in education, welcoming our students to a school where learning goes beyond textbooks. The first day is filled with curiosity, new friendships, and hands-on experiences that will set the tone for a year of discovery and growth. Through collaboration, creativity, and the integration of technology, our students are not just learning—they're engaging with the world around them in meaningful ways.
